POLICY and PROCEDURE:

- A. If an offender paroled prior to July 15, 1998, reaches the maximum expiration date of the offender's sentence, a final discharge from parole shall be issued automatically by the Board.
- B. If an offender paroled on or after July 15, 1998, owes restitution, the offender shall not automatically receive a final discharge from parole upon reaching the maximum expiration of his sentence.
  - (1) The Board shall not issue a final discharge of parole until the offender pays restitution in full.
  - (2) An offender's parole status shall be extended for non-payment of Board or Court ordered restitution as provided in KRS 439.563(3)(d) and (5).
- C. An offender who wishes to contest the extension of his parole supervision for failure to pay restitution may do so by the following:
  - (1) File a request for modification or removal of a condition or parole pursuant to Subsection D of KYPB 11-00; or
  - (2) File a request for modification to the sentencing court that ordered the restitution.
- D. The minimum expiration of sentence date and the maximum expiration of sentence date for an offender is calculated by the Department of Corrections pursuant to KRS 196.070(1)(d).
